

Sean K. Dalfen

Managing Director
Dalfen America Corp.

Sean is an Executive Managing Director at Dalfen America Corp (DAC), a private equity firm based out of Montreal, QC, serving as the head of fund operations, which has an annual acquisition mandate of between $500 million and $1 billion. Prior to his current role, Sean was instrumental in creating the company's self-storage division, Mini Dauphin, now a leading self storage provider in the Montreal area. Sean also led Dalfen's Ltd (DAC's Canadian entity) in the assembly one of the largest contiguous industrial land holdings in the Montreal area. Previously, Sean worked at NAI Commercial, where he was one of the company's top 10 performers in Canada.

Sean is a member of both the executive committee and the cabinet of Israel Bonds, as well as being one of the founding members of the organization's Business Network Division.

Sean attended Mcgill University where he studied Psychology and Finance, and graduated from Tel Aviv University's Lowy School. Sean also holds a Social Science degree from Dawson College and a real estate degree from Lasalle College.